

About the College

Sir Chhotu Ram Government College for Women, Sampla, was established by the Government of Haryana in 2000 with the aim of providing quality higher education to girls of the rural region. This college is a testament to community vision and dedication to women's education and it was founded on 15 acres of land generously allotted by the Gram Panchayat of Garhi Sampla Village.

The institution began in 2000 with 34 students in the Arts faculty and has since expanded steadily, adding Science and Commerce streams. To meet rising academic demand, postgraduate courses in Hindi, History and Geography have introduced. At present, the institution has grown remarkably to an enrolment of 1150 students, reflecting its success in fulfilling the Haryana Government's vision of expanding women's access to higher education.

This institution is located in Garhi Sampla, the birthplace of Sir Chhotu Ram, on Delhi Highway No. 10 near the PWD Rest House, the college is well known for its lush greenery, peaceful and serene environment, and excellent transport connectivity, which together have earned it the name 'Shanti

Niketan'. Its strategic location ensures easy access for students and staff from nearby towns and cities.

About the Conference

Mathematics plays a pivotal role in the advancement of science, engineering, technology, and interdisciplinary research. The National Conference on Recent Advancements in Mathematical Sciences and Applications aims to bring together academicians, researchers, scientists, and students from across the country to deliberate on recent developments and emerging trends in mathematical sciences.

The conference will provide a vibrant platform for participants to present original research, exchange innovative ideas, and explore novel applications of mathematics in real-world problems. It also seeks to strengthen collaboration among institutions and promote interdisciplinary research linking mathematics with data science, artificial intelligence, engineering, and physical sciences. Special emphasis will be given to encouraging young researchers and students to engage in scholarly discussions and enhance their research skills. Additionally, the conference will feature keynote lectures and invited talks by eminent experts, offering valuable insights into contemporary mathematical challenges and opportunities. Interactive sessions, panel discussions, and paper presentations will facilitate knowledge exchange among participants.

Objective of the Conference

- To showcase cutting-edge research in pure and applied mathematics.
- To explore interdisciplinary applications of mathematical sciences in technology, data science, engineering and sciences.
- To provide a platform for young researchers and students to present their work and gain feedback.

Sub-themes or Sub-topics

The conference will cover a broad spectrum of topics, including but not limited to:

- Pure Mathematics
Algebra, Geometry, Number Theory, Topology, Analysis
- Applied Mathematics
Mathematical Modelling and Simulation, Optimization, Computational Mathematics
- Statistics & Data Science
Machine Learning, Big Data Analytics, Statistical Inference
- Mathematics in Engineering, Technology and Sciences
Signal Processing, Control Systems, Cryptography, Applications in Physical Sciences

- Vedic Mathematics
Vedic Methods in Algebra and Arithmetic, Ramanujan's contribution

Guidelines for Paper Submission

Abstract

- Abstract must be original and unpublished, related to the conference theme.
- Maximum length: 300 words
- Include title, author(s) name(s), affiliation(s), email ID, and 3–5 keywords.
- Format: MS word, Times New Roman, font size 12, single spacing.

Full Length Paper

- Full papers must be original and not under review elsewhere.
- Length: 6–8 pages, including tables and references.
- Format: Times New Roman, font size 12, 1.5 line spacing.
- Paper should include: Abstract, Introduction, Methodology, Results & Discussion, Conclusion and References.
- At least one author must register and present the paper.

Important Dates

- Abstract Submission Deadline:
05 January 2026
- Registration Deadline:
17 January 2026
- Full Length Paper Submission:
17 January 2026
- Acceptance Notification:
Minimum one week before the date of conference

Send the Abstract and Full-Length Paper at
